

1,335
Day Prophecy

Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand three hundred and thirty-five days.

Daniel 12:12

1 prophetic day = 1 literal year

See Numbers 14:34; Ezekiel 4:5, 6

1,335 Days = 1,335 Years

When did the 1,335 days begin?

Daniel states that the “wait” extends another forty-five years beyond the 1290 years (Daniel 12:11), to reach a total of 1,335 years. It contextually implies that the 1,335 days and 1,290-day prophecies both have the common starting point of AD 508.

The people spoken of would ...

- have an understanding of the book of Daniel beginning in 1798.
- be a blessed movement rising after 1798.
- expect or wait for an event
- have a date for that event in mind

A.D. 508

Clovis, king of the Franks, established the priesthood of the Papal Church. Christ’s continual mediation in the heavenly sanctuary was “cast down” in favor of an earthly priesthood, which blasphemously took upon itself the prerogatives of Christ.

Daniel 8:13; Daniel 11:31; Daniel 12:11

A.D. 1843

Daniel closes with a prophecy of the blessed Advent movement, the only movement rising in response to an understanding of the book of Daniel and who were waiting for an event during the year 1843.
